One of Greene County's visible attractions for travelers is the I-79 Kirby Welcome Center. The visitor's center is one of the finest in the state and the nation that provides visitors with information about Greene County and Western Pennsylvania.

The Greene County Pennsylvania I-79 Visitor's Center is also the location of our Miner's Monument. In the courtyard, to the right of the center, is the Miner's Monument. It serves as a memorial to miners who died in a mine explosion directly beneath the monument. The memorial features a likeness of the famous mine labor leader John L. Lewis. On the reverse side of the monument, is a roll of Greene County Miners.
